Carol McCutcheon, long-time webmaster, BMB Weekly editor, and photographer for BMB, passed on October 27, 2020.

Carol welcomed many people to the Department and took beautiful photos of them at the Annual Picnic and throughout their careers.

Upon retirement in 2004, Carol moved to Cozumel, Mexico, where she pursued her passions for photography and learning about people and wildlife.

As BMB Weekly editor, Carol often closed issues with words of advice or inspiration, sometimes to the chagrin of serious-minded scientists and staffers, as with the following...

“Some people are like Slinkies - Not really good for anything, but they bring a smile to your face when pushed down the stairs.”

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in chemistry or closely related field, be able to teach biochemistry and/or other chemistry core courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels. Email Qingfeng (qge@chem.siu.edu) for more information.

The John Varga Laboratory at the University of Michigan is recruiting a post-doctoral fellow. The lab is focused on mechanisms underlying fibrosis progression and novel therapeutic approaches. Experience with fibrosis research and a background in basic bioinformatics is preferred. Please contact Swati (bhattasw@med.umich.edu) for details.

ISE 870 Teaching College Science is a 2 credit course that introduces participants to the theory and practice of student-centered college teaching. Participants will be able to use an understanding of how people learn, the basics of curriculum design, and a range of teaching and assessment strategies and instructional technology to plan for, teach, and analyze effective science teaching. This course is one of the elements of the Certification in Teaching College Science and Mathematics, but may be of interest to any grad student interested in enhancing their pedagogical skills. Contact Matt (oneymatt@msu.edu) with questions.

The MSU Sexual Assault Healthcare Program is opening now open. The office is on the 2nd floor of the student services building in suite 237 and will be open 24/7. The phone number (517) 353-2700 is a direct line to the nurse on duty. Exams are free and no insurance information will be collected.
