

Cancer Biology Symposium

Thursday May 24, 2018
9:00 am – 4:30 pm

Michigan State University
1415 BPS Building
567 Wilson Rd, East Lansing

Karen Liby, Sophia Lunt and Eran Andrechek, MSU | Opening Remarks

Lauren Aitch, Aitch Foundation | Introduction of Aitch Scholars

Traci Lyons, University of Colorado Denver

“Macrophages, lymphatics, and semaphorin 7a cooperate to promote lymph node metastasis in postpartum women”

Gina DeNicola, Moffitt Cancer Center

“NRF2 and the control of cellular metabolism”

Powel Brown, MD Anderson Cancer Center

“Prevention and Treatment of Triple Negative Breast Cancer”

Charles Perou, University of North Carolina Chapel Hill

“Quantitative medicine for breast cancer patients”

Nadine Tung, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center

“Treating Hereditary Breast Cancer”

Senthil Muthuswamy, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center

“Organoids and Cell Polarity: New models and pathways for controlling cancer”

Register by May 8 at RSVP@psl.msu.edu

Lunch will be provided for registered attendees.

Complimentary parking pass requests for non-MSU attendees should be made when registering.